BIG ROBBERY.

Express Agent at Fordsville Held Up For $28,000.

Mysterious Affair and Detectives At Work On the Case.

J. C. Schlitzbaum, American express agent at Fordsville, Ky., claims to have been robbed of $28,000.

Several days ago a man giving his name as J. W. Boatner, of Memphis, appeared at the office of the American Express Company at Deanfield, which is only five miles from Fordsville, and wanted to express $30,000 to the latter point. Boatner took a receipt for it, but the agent remembered that he was allowed to ship only $5,000 at one time, and made him take the cash back. Boatner then went to Owensboro with Joe Guess, Marshall of Deanfield. Boatner and Marshall Guess immediately departed for the country and spent the day in the woods. Thursday evening they came back and wanted $28,000 sent to Fordsville that night, but the agent, J. G. Burch would not receive it. They kept it until Friday morning, when it was sent out. Boatner and Guess disappeared, Guess going back to Deanfield.

The money reached its destination, and the agent informed a number of people of its arrival and of the amount. Boatner had telephoned him to hold the money and not put in the bank as he would be there very early this morning for it. Some of the citizens of Fordsville offered their assistance to Agent Schlitzbaum in guarding the money last night, but he said he did not want help.

This morning Schlitzbaum was gone from Fordville and turned up at Falls-of-Rough, ten miles away. He stated that he was held up, robbed and kidnaped during the night. He first decided to stay at the depot all night, he says, but finally got nervous and started to the hotel, which is only one square away. Between the two places he was set upon and robbed by three men. He says he never saw the robbers before.

Schlitzbaum and Boatner are both under arrest and detectives are working on the case, trying to connect them with a conspiracy to rob the express company. Boatner holds the company's receipt for $28,000.

The great body of the delegates from the Central counties will arrive by a special train on the L. & N. this afternoon at 6:30.

It is estimated that 500 delegates will be in attendance and the entertaining capacity of the city will be taxed to the utmost, as many homes are closed for the summer and there is the usual amount of sickness. Phillips, of Richmond, Va.; Dr. B. A. Jenkins, President of Kentucky University, and Dr. G. W. Briggs. Mr. Robt. M. Hopkins will be musical director, assisted by all of the local choirs.

A unique feature will be the use of a stereopticon in an illustrated song and prayer service.

The first session will be at 7:30 this evening at the Union Tabernacle. Dr. W. L. Nourse will preside. Eld. H. D. Smith will deliver the address of welcome, which will be responded to by Mr. Sam W. Bedford, of Owensboro.
